10.9

Classic vs. Neoclassic

What's the difference? When they were born!

Classics mostly date from the 19th or 20th century - a few simple ingredients, a recipe known worldwide. Neoclassics are much younger and draw on a wider range of ingredients.

NEO CLASSICS

Espresso Martini

Absolut Vodka, Kahlúa, espresso, sugar

11

Gin Basil Smash

Beefeater Gin, fresh basil, lemon, sugar

12

Pornstar Martini

Absolut Vodka - vanilla, Passoã, lime, vanilla syrup, passion fruit, champagne

11

Pineapple Boulevardier

Four Roses Bourbon - pineapple infused, Campari, sweet vermouth - our own creation, built on a classic

11.5

Espresso Martini

one for the wealth, health & happiness

That's what the three coffee beans stand for. And although it's called a 'Martini', it contains neither gin nor vermouth - the name comes from the style and the glass.

Gin Basil Smash

5cl is too little, 6cl is the recipe, 7cl is love

Jörg Meyer on his famous creation - the Gin Basil Smash.
